It is eight o'clock in the morning and most young people are getting ready to go to school. Pablo, however, is one of the many school dropouts<sup>1</sup> who refuse to go.

"I stopped going to school two years ago because other students were behaving badly and I couldn't study. It was too noisy for me."

No one likes school dropouts<sup>1</sup> because they have no responsibilities. This makes other students jealous of them and some young people begin to commit crimes.

Pablo used to go to the Public Library every day. "I enjoy reading and have taught myself a lot. If I had been at school I would have had to study what the teacher gave me."

Now Pablo attends a special centre. His teacher said "some pupils will return to school and others will stay until they find a job. They deserve a second chance".

<sup>1</sup> school dropouts = desertores escolares
